She is bright mannered and clever in conversation and is about brty years of age, although she looks much younger. Since the death of Dr. Janeway she has resided at the national capital with her daughter, now about twenty years old. Until last year she had been an employee of the Congressional library. Her house in Washington, which was built recently, is one of the handsomest on I street. She recently leased it for a term of two years to the assistant secretary of the treasury, the senator and his wife preferring to make their home in New York except when congress meets. Senator Thomas C. Platt is a native of Owego and has just passed his seventieth year. He was educated at Yale and entered on a political career early in life. After serving several terms in congress he was elected senator and came into national prominence as an kling. With Conkling he apparently died a political death when he resigned from the senate and failed in the election that followed to be returned to that hody. But he steadily gained in political power and has long been the acknowledged leader of the Republican party in the Empire State. CHAPTER IV. - CONTINUED

Every Sunday Mahala Cameron's father preached in the schoolhouse, and nearly all the people, whether they accepted the Cumberland Presbyterlan creed or not, went to the service. Wlidplum graves made bouquets of snow on the prairies. The woods were fuli of flowers, having such fragrance as breaks only from old loam. All the trees, from the rich green of the pecan to the delleate and slowly deepening maple gave out their foliage to the snn. The Judas tree burst out like flame ia the forest.

Happy boys were seen coming home from the river of evenings with strings of cropples, bass, and pike, ilaif-yearly muster day came, when the local militta stepped out in nwkward sqands and practiced such military tacties as the leader knew to the squeak of a fife and the thump of a drum. Antywise out himself among the boys. He liked life and movement. But Shickshaek stood and booked gloomly on. He knew that his own people, the Sacs, were being crowded in their reservation, and this play of war might sometime become reality. Whisky was plentiful of muster days. Antywine noticed that Lincoln did not touch it. Having considered the height and strength of Sleur Abe, he also spat out of his mouth a taste of fiery stuff pushed between his lips by a Grove boy, and decided that he would fight rather than be forced to drink.

Slicky Green and Ann Rutledge's brother were home, working in their fathers' fields. Young Yates was seen at intervals during the summer. The boys and girls of New Satem found a world of material for their own happiness. There were quittings, where the older women labored in the afternoon and young men and women came to evening games.

Peggy Shiekshack stood outside of such testivities, and so dld Antywiae, because the singular mother of their household had no fellowship with the mother of any other household. For ail the viliagers began to look kindly at the unfoiding womanliness of the tame Spaniard, the bload head of Antywine, and the good old Indian who loved white men, itut the festivai that Peggy liked best and was not left out of, was blackberrying. The girls rose at dawn and put on their worst clothes, meeting by anpointment at the tavern with baskets on their arms. They did not speak loud. The dust in the roud took the prints of their feet like ashes. The whote sweet-smeiling world drenened in dew, and as they brushed down the ravine across the woods beyoad, they were baptized by every Then their tongues were ioosened, and they sang and lold stories. Sometimes they pretended to see woives sneaking to cover, but this merely for the pleasure of frightening themselves. It was the lovellest pligrimage ever invented. There was peril in it too, for in the wooded field of wild brambjes the thick-mottied rattleinake, or objects resembling him, caused many a start and shrick.

Shickshack said noming about Antywine's first serious undertaking of The boy until that civilized work, time had been nothing but a hunter. Perhaps the tudian pondered on the white man's influence. He set himself to bring in pienty of venison to dry for winter, and an abundance of buckskin to tan. His cabin was ns good as any in New Saiem.

Shicksback held land in his reservation, as all bis tribe held it, without cultivating or improving an acre except patches of malze and pumpkins. 11 could not understand the white man's greed for real estate when the prairies were so free to all. The Uncleanliness of Bathing

By Prof. John Dill Robertson.

The theory that the closing of the pores of the skin would result in death is false. All physiologies which make such an assertion are wrong, and the pupils in the public schools who are taught that such is the fact are being misinformed. Not only could a person close the pores of his skin without harmful results, but a man could he painted with tar and left with all the pores of his skin lng an Interview, being in distress of closed without hindering the functions of any of his him, and we stood talking in the deli-

Hot-water halling is as injurious as alcohol. It draws the blood to the skin as does alcohol, thus overheating the body and leaving the internal organs without their necessary amount of nonrishment. If a personhatties himself in hot water before going out on a cobl day, he will find in a short time that not only the blood which was drawn to the surface by the bath has receded within the body, but also the blood naturally on the surface of the skin, thus leaving him much colder than he would have been if he had not taken the hath.

My advice to citizens of Chicago is to quit hathing to morrow, and they will find themselves much healthier in a year from now than they have ever been hefore.

Business and College Training

Cellege training spoi's many young men who would enter a business career. In my judgment a up to that Sunday mounting lour, of the driver - Journal of Inchricty. recal ligh school education is preferable, rather than a colleg-one, for young men who have their own way to make in the world.

America's progress is due to the fact that her men begin the hatt'e of life early, when they are full of enthusiasm and energy, and when they are most adapsable to existing conditions—in their teens. A has who goes into business at 17 or to has seven years, say, the start of a college man, and the college that the son of Man hath power on man must begin in a small position and at a boy's pay begin where that boy began—and naturally this dissatisfies the college man. And a mait dissatisfied is a man that is spoiled for the day's work, In this, of course, I am speaking of commercial and business life, along lines where experience and common sense are needed more than technical

Common sense is better than a high colucation, anyway. The man with common sense can always get an education, but the best education lng it over his shoulder, widken in the world doesn't bring you any in all common sense than what you were born with. As for success, the component parts of success are a level head, an honest intention, industry and perseverance and—this is important -just a dash of good luck.

The performer allows himself to be led with a fetter (consisting of a baml) as is shown in C of illustration. One hand is tled to the end of the band first, then the other. The band must he so long that the hands can move pretty freely. The performer, after being tled, speaks a few words of introduction, excuses himself for being obliged to take off his coat, lakes off his coat and appears fettered as before.

Finally he slips his coat on again and asks somebody to cut the fetters, which appear to be intact and in the same condition as when they were tied at the beglunling of the performance.

To perform this trick effectively, a intaway coat should be worn, having in its back pockets the principal requisite, a second fetter. Itesides this fetter a small pair of schoors is secreted in the same pecket. This pair of scissors aerves to cut the band tled by the audi-

The train left Pittsburg Wednesday evenling, running a few minutes late, in charge of Engineer William Thornley, of Connellsyllie. When approaching Laurel Run, which is a particularly fine piece of roadbed, the train was running at a high rate of speed. Suddenly the passengers were thrown from their seats by the lightning-like application of the air brakes and a moment later there was a terrible crush.

The train was made up of two baggage, two day coaches, one sleeper, and one dinlug car, and was carrying at the time, at the lowes estimate, 150 passengers. The train ploughed along for a considerable distance and the cars were turn to pleces, passengers jumping, screaning, falling from the wreck as it tore mlong. Suddenly the engine swerved to the left and the coaches plunged down over the curbankment to the edge of the Youghlogheny river. The minute the cars stopped rolling there was a wild scene. Many were pinloned beneath the wreckage and the screams and cries that rent the air were beyond description. Many were injured in their mud excitement and plunged into the river Others, pinloned beneath the heavy timbers, pleaded in agonized iones for release. So territic was the force of the wreck that nearly every passenger suffered a moment's unconscioneness and many of the whie-bod ted men were mable to assist in help-Ing the injured from the wreck on ac count of having fainted.

The killed, most of them, were for elgners, who were in the smoker, just back of the baggage cur. They were literally roasted adive, the baggage enr und smoker telescoping the enthe and immediately catching tire. The four indictments were read lo the accused. They showed no emotion with the exception of Myron Harbour, The ludictments charged them with "Felonlously, mallelously and with premeditated intent, causing death of Elizabeth Glitespie." A conspiracy among members of the murdered woman's own family to kill her is alleged. James Gillespie, her twin-brother, is the one who is generally thought to have fired the shot. Each entered a plea of not gullty. Capt. Coles, attor ney, presented petitions for writs of babeas corpus on grounds that not enough evidence to indict and liberty withheld on a charge of a crime of which they were innocent. Judge Dow ney ordered writs returnable immedi ately and the petition was heard.

James Gillesple and Myron Harbov were refused bail and were remanded to jail. Crowds followed the two as they were taken to the county jall near the courthouse by Sherlff Rump and Marshal Overly. An extra guard was placed in the fall for the night. All the pent-up excitement and strain under which the people in the city have lence is expected, however, as the people scem willing to let the law take Its course as long as it has proceeded this far.

ESCAPING STEAM ADDS TO HORRORS!

Terrifying Screams Reof the Air When Trata Plunged Down Embankment, After Coaches Were Torn by Tunbers-Philoned in Wreekage, Ago-

Connellsville, Pa., Dec. 24. - Vt least 63 persons were killed and 34 persons injured in the terrible wreck of the Duquesne limited, the fastest train on the Baltimore and Ohio from Pittsburg to New York. The train plowed into a pile of lumber and then rolled down an embankment.

The train left Plttsburg a few minutes late, in charge of Engineer Wijilam Thornley of Connellsville. When approaching Laurel Run, which is a particularly line piece of roadbed. the train was running at a high rate of speed. Suddenly the passengers were thrown from their seats by the lightning-like application of the air brakes, and a moment later there was a terrible crash. The train was made up of two baggage, two day cosches, one sleeper and one dlning ear, and was carrying at the time, at the lowest estimate, 150 passengers. The train plowed slong for a considerable fatally. distance and the ears were torn to pieces, passengers jumping scream-Ing from the wreek as it tore along. Suddenly the engine swerved to the left and the coaches plunged down over the embankment to the edge of passports. the Youghlogheny river. The minute the cars stopped rolling there was a wild scene. Don't become discouraged. There is a cure for you. If necessary write in Fig. He has spent a lifetime curing just such cases as yours. All consultations are FREE. "I had suffered for a long time and for three weeks was down in bed, unable to move without great pain because of pains in my back, which several doctors pronounced lumbago. They failed to give me any relief whatever. A sample bottle of Dr. Fenner's Kidney and Backache Cure greatly relieved me. I bought and used two more bottles and was completely cured, although my occupation as a dyer requires me to be much about water and often my clothing becomes damp or very wet. I have suffered no return of the trouble nor any signs of rhouse.

SPECIAL BLIND AND DEAF EXHIBIT

Chairman E. H. Mark Preparing to Show at the World's Fair the Progress of the Schools From 1793 to 1904—Support of Leading Educators of the State Enlisted.

As early as 1793, a hundred and ten years ago, Kentucky's educational system was inaugurated in the Transylvania University nt Lexington. Thirty-six years later the public school system began. It is the purpose of Prof. E. H. Mark, the superintendent of the schools of Louisville, who the Kentucky Exhibit Association was fortunate enough to get as chairman of its Educational Committee, to show every phase of educational life from 1793 to 1904 at the Exposition In St. Louis. To those aequainted with Prof. Mark and his wonderful energy and resource, this nnnouncement means that the exhibit of educational affairs from Kentucky will be more than could be expected. Prof. Mark is in close touch with the leading educators of the State and has enilsted their support. All the different classifications will be given the prominence to which they are en-The eollegiate, the high school, the training school, the kindergarten, the normal and the business courses are, of course, included. Especially designed cabinets for displaying drawings, port-folio work. ete., will be provided for the different schools. A sample of this eablnet, with the base in which written work is to be shown, is now at headquarters for the inspection of any

The exposition authorities are very anxious to have an excellent exhibit of the blind and deaf and dumb institutions of Kentucky. Dr. B. B. Hunton, of the Blind institute of Louisville, has been invited by Prof. Howard J. Rogers, the chief of the department at the World's Fair, to send two of his best pupils, a boy and a girl, to St. Louis, for the entire exposition period, suggesting that they matriculate in Green's School for the Educational Building daily with the classes to be sent from Dr. Green's School. One of the features of the pipe organ, and Dr. Rogers invites one of Dr. Huntoon's blind pupils to perform on this organ. Dr. Huntoon has also been asked to make a display of the Brailie System the exposition may be reekoned as a place for the survival of the fittest systems, it is the hope of the associa-Dr. Rogers is also very desirous of having a class from the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Danville. He has out by these blind and deaf and dumb pupils will be st: mped with the word "Kentucky" thereon and sold as souvenirs at the exposition.

LIVE STOCK ARISTOCRACY.

Kentucky Expects to Capture Some of Those World's Fair Premiums. The aristocracy of Kentucky's live stock, which is only another way of saying the 1 icrowned kings and queens of the American turf, the eatbe sent to the Louislana Purchase Exposition, with the full expectation of bringing back to the State many thousands of dollars of the quarter of a million dollars offered by the World's Fair officials in premiums. Mr. L. L. Dorsey, until recently president of the Kentucky Live Stock Breeders' Association, is chairman of the Live Stock Committee of the Kentucky Exhibit Association. He has appointed the following chairmen of subcommittees of the different elassifications: T. L. Hornsby, Eminence, Shorthorn Cattle; J. W. O'Bannon, Louisville, Aberdeen Angus Cattie; D. L. Moore, Harrodsburg, Polled Durham Cattle; W. H. Giltner, Emlnenee, Hereford Cattle; M. A. Scovell, Lexington, Jersey Cattle; S. DeRidder, Prospect, Harness Horses; Castlenian, Pleasant IIIII, Saddle Horses; George Graddy, Versailles, Thoroughbred Horses; John Hughes, Lexington, Coach and High Stepping Horses; W. T. Chliton, Campbellsburg, Sheep; F. G. Hogan, O'Bannon, Hogs; James Taggart, Finchville, Jacks and Mules; J. L. Aneliorage, Belgian Shalleross, Hares; J. H. Good, Louisville; Poultry; R. H. Young, Louisville, Pigeons.

Each of these chalrmen has a subcommittee and all who form these committees, a list approaching one hundred and fifty in number, are giving much of their time to preparations. It may he safely said that Kentucky will have between three hundred and five hundred head of its finest stock at the exposition, and all of this stock is to he the best that can be shown in the various elassifications. Chlef Coburn, of the Live Stock Department of the Fair, urges upon the Exhibit Association the importance of showing only quality.

If Rome should really consent to send a valuable collection of Vatican relics for exhibition at the World's Fair it will certainly absorb the greatest interest. The rarest treasures of the world are in the Vatican. -Church Progress.

SPECIAL TO THE CITIZEN.

Camp Marabiu, Philippine Islands, Sept. 1, 1903.-Dear Citizen: If you will spare me a small space in your paper I will emleavor to give the mountain people some items about the Philippine Islands.

We (the 28th infantry) have been in the Islands almost two years. We months. Then we were ordered to Mindanao Island, where we have been sver since. The road from Illigan to Lake Lavao, on which we worked and of which I have told you in former letters, was completed four months ago. We are now building barracks near the lake. We have one finished and three others almost completed. There are teu companies of the 28th infautry and forty-nine scouis stationed here at this post. The 14th Cavalry arrived in Mindanao just a few days ago and relieved the 15th Cavalry, who at once started for the United States.
